

How can you get involved?

Every school in Utah has a School Community Council or LAND Trust Council (council) that consists of the principal, school employees and parents. The majority of members are parents. Parents represent parent perspectives on issues and in votes made by the council.

The council is responsible to review and propose changes to academic school plans each year. The School LAND Trust Plan outlines the student's greatest academic needs and includes an action plan to address them. The plan is approved by the council and then implemented at the school. The School LAND Trust Plan is implemented with funds that increase every year. The council decides how the money is to be spent in the plan.

We invite you to run for the Thomas Edison Charter School South LAND trust council (either as an employee or parent) if you have interest in serving. Please contact Brad Larsen (brad.larsen@edisoncs.org) or the front office for information. Elections for new members are held each spring for the following year and are generally a 2 year term. You can also be part of the conversation by contacting a current member of the LAND Trust Council and letting them know your thoughts and ideas.

TECS South receives varied amounts of funding each year from the LAND trust. You can click on each year's plan to see those exact amounts.
